4) ALTERNATIVE SPRING BREAK: CHARLESTON, SOUTH CAROLINA

BSU is still looking for students to represent our wonderful HBCU and participate in an Alternative Spring Break to Charleston, South Carolina). The deadline has been extended to Tuesday, March 12, at Noon.

During Spring Break 2019, forty of our boldest BSU Bulldogs across all classifications and majors will take the road less traveled by engaging in a unique community service and cultural immersion experience in Charleston, South Carolina! To celebrate the return of Alternative Spring Break (ASB) at BSU, this group of trailblazers will support the academic and mental health needs of young boys at Promise Academy, complete projects with the local Urban League and others.

Additionally, our ASB crew will have lots of opportunities to learn about and experience the rich cultural heritage of Charleston, South Carolina. This includes being transported in time — Black to the Future — to the Low Country — self-contained regions that have been intentional about preserving ancient African traditions, values and norms for centuries.

Our Bulldogs will have a personalized tour of Mother Emmanuel AME Church, the Gullah-Geechee region and step onto the international and sacred soil of the Oyatunji African Village to be exposed to and transformed by traditional Yoruba customs, crafts and cuisine.

Participants will reflect on their own cultural heritage, the migration of past generations, how resistance and resilience over time have shaped the cultures we will explore and explore the traces of African culture that are present in modern day language, behavior, food, music and arts. Get in touch with your southern #Roots, take pride in the #Resilience of people of African descent and lend your hand in the #Restoration of the most vulnerable members of the Charleston community!
