3) NEW INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITY: PRODUCTION ASSISTANTS FOR WRITERS' HAVEN

About Us

The Writer's Haven Show (www.writershavenshow.com), hosted by author and filmmaker V. Helena, showcases the work of nationally and internationally known authors, directors and producers. It is a place where artists speak of their passion, process, and projects to inspire others with the same endeavor. The format of the show includes one-on-one interviews with the artists, panel discussions with industry insiders, and breaking industry news. The show is in its 2nd season and kicks off with an interview with NY Times best-selling author, Connie Briscoe followed by interviews with best-selling authors Tina McElroy Ansa, Lolita Files, Marita Golden, Victor McGlothlin and international award-winning filmmaker, Haila Gerima.

Internship Program

Our volunteer student interns (Production Assistants) will work up to 40 hours a month, which translate to 4-6 shows devoting 5-7 hours (including pre- and post-production work) per show. There are two categories of interns working on the show—those that will primarily assist in the pre-production planning of the show, and those that will primarily assist in production and post-production planning. Both categories will be responsible for performing production duties the day of taping. We have two taping slots that are scheduled Monday through Thursday from 3:30pm thru 6:30pm, and 7:00pm thru 9:00pm. Interns are able to work either or both time slots. Although most of our shows are shot in the studio, there will also be opportunities for field productions during the season.

The Creative Writing (CW) student interns will be primarily assigned to work on pre-production projects with the producer. Duties include reviewing the literary work of guest authors on the show, and provide critical feedback on the work based on prescribed criteria. In addition, the CW interns will be assigned specific authors to ensure the producers obtain all show related pre-production materials (e.g., author bios, books, promo/media packages, related photos) and work with the author and producer in scheduling tapings. In addition, the CW interns will work on the set with the production crew staff on the day of taping to set up the green room, check in guests, and exchange show related information between the guests and producer or crew as necessary. Lastly, the interns will work with Phoenix Rizen Entertainment staff in drafting promotion and marketing information for the show, including working with local business owners in promoting the show through their sponsorship.

Internship will be performed without compensation, and as a volunteer, we encourage you to take advantage of this opportunity to enhance your study in the art of writing and film/video production.

For more information, please contact Ms. Valerie Yancey at producer@writershavenshow.com.

Students can earn credit for internships with our ENGL 383 course. Contact Dr. Sierra for more information.

Q&A

Elizabeth Nunez and audience.

ELIZABETH NUNEZ is the award-winning author of nine novels (see reverse side). Her novels Boundaries and Anna In-Between were New York Times' Editors Choices. She received the 2015 Hurston/Wright Legacy Award in nonfiction for her memoir Not For Everyday Use. This memoir's title comes from her mother's admonition to say "I love you" sparingly. Join us for a discussion of how her fiction is in fact, "for everyday use" in its themes of Pan Africanism, neocolonialism, and African derived religion. 6) ONE-YEAR MA IN TEACHING DEGREE AT LOYOLA UNIVERSITY MARYLAND

FULL-TIME, ONE-YEAR PROGRAM PROFILE

The full-time, one-year Master of Arts in Teaching is an intensive program that prepares future teachers to meet the needs of the 21st century learner. Loyola's School of Education stands strong on its commitments to social justice and equity which are infused throughout our curriculum, clinical experiences, and mentorship. Loyola also has an urban scholars program designed for candidates particularly interested in teaching in urban communities. Choose whether you'd like to join our Elementary or Secondary track and—in just one year—this accelerated format will build upon the strong foundation you acquired as an undergraduate and propel you in the exciting career of teaching.

PROGRAMS OF STUDY

Completion of the full-time, one-year Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) program and satisfactory scores on the required teacher licensure exams will lead to Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE) certification.

MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING ELEMENTARY (GRADES 1-6)

The elementary education program requires an undergraduate major in one of the four content areas (mathematics, science, English, or social studies, or another closely related area) and/or a well-rounded liberal arts background, including courses in science, mathematics, English, and social studies. Social studies include economics, geography, history, philosophy, political science, psychology, and sociology.

MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING SECONDARY (GRADES 7-12) AND (GRADES PK-12)

The secondary education program requires an undergraduate major (or 27-30 sufficient credits) in the certification area in which the aspiring teacher is seeking certification.

We offer concentrations in biology, chemistry, earth/space science, physics, English, mathematics, or social studies in grades 7-12.

In addition, we have programs in art, French, music (vocal or instrumental), or Spanish which apply to grades PK-12. Social studies include majors in economics, geography, history, philosophy, political science, psychology, and sociology.

ELEMENTARY CERTIFICATION FORMAT

The full-time, one-year MAT is completed in one year (summer-spring). Students will complete 15 credits in the summer, 12 credits in the fall (which includes internship I), and 11 credits in the spring (which includes Internship II). During the summer, all courses are offered in the evening and last approximately six weeks.

SECONDARY CERTIFICATION FORMAT

The full-time, one-year MAT is completed in one year (summer-spring). Students will complete 12 credits in the summer, 13 credits in the fall (which includes internship I), and 9 credits in the spring (which includes Internship II). During the summer, all courses are offered in the evening and last approximately six weeks.

CLINICAL EXPERIENCE

This program includes two 20-hour field placements designed to provide the student with exposure to school classroom operations prior to the internship.

- Internship I consists of teaching one or two days a week for a semester after initial consecutive full-time orientation days.
- Internship II follows the schedule of the local school system for the semester. Students take an Internship I seminar.

APPLICATION DEADLINE

SCHOLARSHIP DEADLINE: Feb 15
PRIORITY DEADLINE: March 15

TEACH. TRANSFORM. INSPIRE.

OUR APPROACH

Grounded in Jesuit principles, the coursework engages students in a critical analysis of educational processes at the classroom, school, and community level.

With certification reciprocity across the U.S., Loyola's MAT program has been approved by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and the Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE).

Loyola University Maryland was the only MD institution to receive the 2010 Community Engagement Classification from the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.
