1) MA STUDENT ALEXANDRA OMOGBADEGUN FEATURED IN FORBES'S UNDER 30 SCHOLAR LIST

MA student Alexandra Omogbadegun was selected to be one of Forbes's Under 30 Scholars. The selection allows Alexandra to attend The Forbes Under 30 Summit, which brings the world's best young leaders, founders, and creators for a life-changing four days of connecting, learning, teaching, and building. The Summit will give Alexandra the opportunity to hear from prestigious keynote speakers, be a part of panels on topics of creativity, technology, fashion, philanthropy, and so much more. She will also have the chance to attend exclusive networking sessions, explore Detroit, and do community service around the city.

2) MA STUDENT PHIL JULIEN MEETS EDWIDGE DANTICAT

MA student Phil Julien met and spoke with author Edwidge Danticat at the Library of Congress last week. Literary works such as 1994's Breath, Eyes, Memory, 2004's The Dew Breaker, and this year's Everything Inside have led to Danticat winning prestigious awards such as the Pushcart Short Story Prize, the National Book Critics Circle Award, and a MacArthur Fellows Program Genius Grant.

3) MLA STUDENT PAPER CONTEST

The Modern Language Association seeks submissions from students of exemplary research papers written in MLA style for publication on The MLA Style Center.

The five papers that best meet the submission criteria will be published on the site, and the authors of accepted papers will receive a certificate and a $50 gift card to an online bookstore. Papers will be evaluated by the MLA's editorial team, and the finalists will be chosen by a committee composed of high school and college faculty members. Each student may submit one paper for consideration by the committee.

Deadline: 28 October 2019

4) MFA PROGRAM AT GEORGIA COLLEGE AND STATE UNIVERSITY

A good MFA program is hard to find, but we believe the MFA Program at Georgia College and State University in Milledgeville, Georgia offers unique opportunities for MFA students dedicated to the craft and purpose of creative writing. GCSU's famous alumna, Flannery O'Connor, lived in Milledgeville on her farm, Andalusia, and of our beautiful, Southern town, she wrote "When in Rome, do as you done in Milledgeville." Our MFA students certainly get a lot done in their three years in Milledgeville.

What makes us unique? We are a fully-funded, full-residency 3-year MFA program located in Flannery O'Connor's hometown of Milledgeville, Georgia. We offer everything you could find at flagship state universities, but because we are part of a small, public Liberal Arts university, our students are immediately welcomed into a close-knit, creative community. We sponsor a Visiting Writers series, bringing nationally-renowned writers to campus each semester, as well as a graduate student reading series, and our faculty work closely with students not only as workshop teachers, but as professional mentors.

The MFA Program offers workshops with award-winning faculty in fiction, creative nonfiction, and poetry, and because we believe in expanding creative possibility and passions for our students, we require students to take cross-genre workshops. Additionally, we offer courses in journal design and editing. Students are able to put their practical skills to creative and purposeful good use while serving as members of the editorial staff of Arts & Letters, our national literary journal, and one of the premier journals of the Southeast.

We are fully-funded: all students receive full tuition remission as well as a Graduate Assistantship. As part of this assistantship, students gain real-world teaching experience, and work at our Writing Center as tutors, teach undergraduate Composition and Introduction to Creative Writing Courses, and teach in our Early College Program which is modeled on the Writers in the Schools Program. This real world teaching experience is essential for those students who hope to continue with teaching careers and/or community service careers. We also participate in the Peace Corps Paul D. Coverdell Fellows Program which offers assistantships to Peace Corps volunteers.
